Ticket office

You need to have a ticket to enter – either a paid for ticket, a free ticket you’ve been given or a Membership card.

Tickets bought on our website are valid for 7 days. They can be posted out to you or collected on the day.

Tickets bought on arrival can only be used that day.

The way in

The entrance to Hampton Court Palace is through the Tudor Great Gatehouse. A bridge over the grassed-over moat takes you there.

Please show your admission ticket here whenever you want to enter.

Staff and volunteers

Our State Apartment Warders (in red coats or waistcoats) and palace volunteers (in red sashes) are here to help you.

Please ask them if you need any help or information.

Audio guided tours

Audio guides can be picked up from the Information Centre off Base Court. They are included in palace admission tickets so are free.

Audio guided tours are included in palace admission tickets and are available in English, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Dutch, Japanese, Russian and Korean.

We also have family audio tours in English that are suitable for children aged 6 and over.

We also have versions for partially sighted visitors in English only.

Transcripts of the tours are also available for hard-of-hearing visitors.

Costumed guides

We have people dressed up in costume who take visitors around the palace on tours and give little theatrical presentations.

They pretend to be some of the famous people who lived at the palace and tell the real stories that happened here.

Their tours and presentations are very popular so can get very crowded.

Sometimes visitors are invited to join in too!

Things to do with children

As well as the costumed guides and the audio tours, we have some free Family Trails for children to do as they go around. These can be collected from the Information Centre.

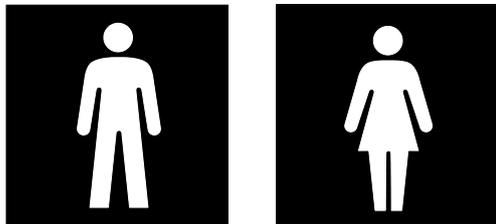

For children under 5, our Family Room, in which they can let off a bit of steam, is located next to the left luggage lockers and buggy park off Clock Court.

There are baby-changing facilities in the toilets off Base Court and in the Tiltyard Café. The Mother & Baby Room off the ladies' toilets off Base Court contains bottle-warming facilities as well as changing mats.

Pushchairs and buggies can be taken around the palace, but a buggy park is available off Clock Court if you don't want to take it with you. Any abandoned buggies will be taken here.

Toilets

There are male, female and accessible toilets inside the palace and in the gardens.

We do not have any hoists in the accessible toilets.

Their locations are marked on maps and signage.

First aid

If you feel ill, please find a State Apartment Warder.

They will call the palace first aider who will come to look after you.

    	Places to buy food and drink We have two cafés: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Tiltyard Café in gardens. They do takeaways.</li> <li>• Privy Kitchen Coffee Shop inside palace. All food bought here has to be eaten in the café.</li> </ul> We also have another café inside palace that opens in the summer only – Fountain Court Café. There are ice cream kiosks or carts in the gardens.
 	Picnicking and bringing your own food If you bring your own food or picnic you can eat it on the benches in the palace courtyards and the gardens – but not in the cafés.

Access information

Our palaces are very old and have many uneven surfaces right from the entrance, for example cobbles, worn steps, uneven steps and slopes.

Some surfaces may be slippery, particularly if they are wet from rain.

Light levels can be low in some places, so please allow time for your eyes to adjust, especially when using stairs.

On very sunny days, light levels can be high, especially in the courtyards.

Lift: there is a lift for anyone who cannot manage stairs but our staff need to operate it – please speak to a State Apartment Warder if you wish to use it.

There are some steps into ‘Young Henry VIII’s Story’ so there is a virtual tour in the Information Centre.

Most films have subtitles.

Large print booklets of interpretation panels are available.

If you hear an alarm...

Please follow the instructions of the staff if you hear the alarms or see people being moved towards the exits.

Staff will take you to the meeting point.

Only six wheelchairs are allowed on the first floor at any one time in case of emergency evacuation.

Lost Property

If you lose something during your visit, speak to the nearest member of staff to see if it has been handed in.

Anything that is found is kept in the Reception Office so contact them by telephoning 0844 482 7777 if you get home and find that you've left something behind.

There are left luggage lockers off Clock Court. They take hand baggage and small rucksacks.

A £1 coin is needed to get the key out but the £1 will be returned when you collect your belongings.

	What to do if you get lost If you get separated from your family or friends, please find a State Apartment Warder. They will ask for some information about your family or friends - for example how old they are, what clothes they are wearing or whether they wear glasses - and then they will try to find them.
   	 Things you cannot do <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• No eating or drinking inside the building (only in the courtyards and the gardens - and in the cafés).</li><li>• No smoking (only in the gardens).</li><li>• Do not touch anything behind a rope barrier or where you see this sign.</li></ul>

No photography or filming in:

- the Chapel Royal,
- the Royal Pew (where Henry VIII's Crown is),
- the Cumberland Art Gallery,
- temporary exhibitions where you see these signs.

You can take photos everywhere else.

Things you can do

- ✓ There is no set order so you can go to whichever part of the palace interests you first.
- ✓ You can touch the objects in the Tudor Kitchens.
- ✓ Objects in the Great Hall and Great Watching Chamber can also be handled.
- ✓ You can wear the visitor cloaks that are in the Information Centre.

- ✓ You are welcome to smell the roses and touch the plants in the gardens - but be careful as some have thorns or spikes!

Quiet spaces

Hampton Court Palace is large and can contain a lot of visitors without feeling crowded. Areas further away from the entrance will be quieter for longer.

The gardens offer the most peace and quiet, even on busy days, but they might require quite a bit of walking.

The palace gardens

Our gardens are very large. We also have Home Park behind the palace, which is even larger.

They are generally flat but we do have steep slopes and drops from height in some areas.

Please be careful near water.

Animals

- The animals that you will see in the gardens are wild. Please do not try to touch them, get too close or feed them in case they bite you.
- Please do not try to pat the shire horses pulling the Horse Tram during summer months; they are working horses and do not like to be touched.

Maze

Show your palace ticket at the entrance to get in. Entry to the Maze is included in palace admission tickets, but there is a separate Maze-only ticket if you don't have one.

It has narrow paths and 2-metre high hedges.

It can get very crowded, especially in the summer.

Summer:  -

Winter:  -

Gift shops

We have four gift shops, each selling slightly different things.

They open at 10.00 and close half an hour before the palace.

All the shops can get crowded sometimes as most have narrow entrances and exits and often limited space in which to circulate once inside.
